

Grants and benefits to help you pay your energy bills

This advice applies to England Print

You can get help if you're struggling to afford your energy bills or top up your prepayment meter. You might be able to take advantage of certain benefits, grants and help offered by the government and energy suppliers.

Get money back if you pay council tax

You can get £150 back from the council to help pay your energy bills - this is called a 'rebate'.

You'll get the rebate if you pay council tax and your home is in council tax bands A to D. You can find your band on your council tax bill or check your council tax band on GOV.UK

You'll only get the rebate if you're the person who has to pay council tax for your household. Only one person per household will get the rebate.

You'll get the rebate even if you:

- get a Council Tax Reduction, including a full reduction, and your home is in bands A to D
- get the Disabled Band Reduction discount and your home is in bands A to E
- are subject to immigration control and your biometric residence permit says "no recourse to public funds"

If you get benefits, the rebate won't affect them.

If you can't get the rebate, the council might still offer you financial help. For example, they might help you if you're in council tax bands E to H and you get certain benefits. Contact your local council to see if they can help you - find your local council on GOV.UK.

How you'll get the rebate

If you set up a direct debit to pay your council tax before the end of March 2022, your council should pay you automatically. Local councils will start to make the payments directly into bank accounts in April 2022.

If you don't pay by direct debit or didn't set up a direct debit before the end of March 2022, you should still get a rebate.

Your local council will contact you - they'll probably ask you to complete an online form.

After you've given the council your details, they'll make the payment as soon as possible.

If you don't hear from your council, contact them to check how you can claim the rebate. You should contact them before 30 September 2022 when the scheme closes. Find your local council on GOV.UK.

Check who you're giving your bank details to

Your council might need your bank details so they can pay you.

Your council won't ask you to:

- make any payments yourself
- give them any passwords - for example, one time passwords to log into online banking
- give them any pin numbers

Scams can be difficult to spot - check if something might be a scam. If you're not sure it's your local council contacting you, ask the council about the rebate yourself. Find your local council's contact details on GOV.UK.

You'll only be eligible for a Cold Weather Payment if you already get:

- Pension Credit
- Income Support
- income-based Jobseeker's Allowance

- income-related Employment and Support Allowance

Before you apply

When you apply for a grant, you'll have to provide detailed information about your financial situation in your application. It could take a while to complete, and it might be worth getting help from a friend or family member. You can also talk to an adviser for help filling in forms.

It's worth checking on the trust or fund website if there's anything else you need to do before you apply.

For example, if your supplier is E.ON, E.ON Next or EDF you'll need to show you've completed a budget sheet with a Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) approved adviser. To do this:

Your local council might be able to help you get a fuel voucher - find your local council on GOV.UK. If you're still not sure if you can get a voucher, get help from an adviser.

You can use a fuel voucher at:

If you have problems using your voucher, contact the organisation that gave it to you - you should be able to find their contact information on the instructions.

Extra help from your supplier

You might be able to get extra help and support from your energy supplier by signing up to the Priority Services Register. You can sign up if you've reached state pension age, you're disabled or sick, or if your energy network considers you 'vulnerable'.

Your energy supplier can help you with things like:
